

We look forward to seeing you!

Thanks to buttoned-up sommeliers and fancy lingo, the world of wine seems a lot like an exclusive club. Not to worry! We'll show you the way at What Am I Drinking?!. We dial down the intimidation for a fun, safe space to learn about wine. Every week, we offer several themed wine classes at our Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania wine education studio – so you can sip and learn with us at your own pace. Each intimate class is led by a local wine professional and includes tasting and discussion of six wine styles or varieties. For more information about our classes, or to see our class schedule, visit whatamidrinking.com.
